

Stockshots [long]

European Year of Volunteering 2011: Part 2

Duration: 00:20:23

First Transmission: 20/05/2011

End of Production: N/A

Ref: I-068685-INT-1

SUMMARY

2011 is the European Year of Volunteering. This means that volunteering, and the work of volunteers, is being propelled into the European limelight. One fifth of the EU population contributing up to 5% of GDP: that's 100 million European volunteers. Volunteering brings huge benefits to our economy and to society. The European Year is an awareness-raising exercise to foster an environment for volunteering. The Commission is working closely with the EYV2011 Alliance of volunteering organisations, the Member States, other European Institutions, the Council of Europe and the United Nations Volunteers. A conference that will look at the world of volunteering through the eyes of the individual volunteer will be held in Brussels on 23 and 24 May 2011. The conference will also address topics that are of the interest to the individual. On this occasion, the Audiovisual Service of the EC distributes Part 2 of the stockshots on volunteering.

Only the original language version is authentic and it prevails in the event of its differing from the translated versions.

SHOTLIST

00:00:00 Credits and title

1. Hellenic Ornithology Society, Greece

00:00:18 Title The Hellenic Ornithology Society, the Greek branch of Bird Life International, was founded in 1982. It employs 25 people and some 300 volunteers throughout Greece. Its main activities are bird-watching and public awareness on environmental issues.

00:00:23 Antonis Tritsis park, Athens (2 shots)

00:00:43 Volunteers from the Hellenic Ornithology Society welcoming the public

00:00:50 A child looking at poster giving instructions on how to build clay nests (2 shots)

00:00:57 Volunteer demonstrating how to build clay nest for the swallows

00:01:04 Close up of hands building clay nest

00:01:12 Female volunteer helping cub scouts to build nests (2 shots)

00:01:31 Spyros Psychas building a clay nest. Spyros, 53 years old, is the coordinator of the Hellenic Ornithology Society. He worked as a chemist before working for the association. He trains the volunteers.

00:01:46 Wide shot of the public attending the demonstration

00:01:52 A wooden hill in the Antonis Tritsis park

00:01:57 A group of volunteers getting ready to plant saplings

00:02:03 One lady volunteer with a hoe on her back

00:02:07 A group of adult volunteers planting a tree (5 shots)

00:02:48	A group of young volunteers planting a tree (2 shots)
00:02:59	Close up on a sapling just planted
00:03:05	Large shot of the association building, within Antonis Tritsis park, and volunteers carrying a small rowing boat
00:03:16	Volunteers bringing the rowing boat to the water (2 shots)
00:03:36	Volunteer Adonis Vikelis putting on a lifejacket. Adonis, 30 years old, from Athens, has been a volunteer from the association for one year.
00:03:42	Ducks on the pond
00:03:47	Rowing boat on the pond
00:03:53	Wide shot of the rowing boat picking up waste floating on the pond
00:04:03	Close up on waste in a net
00:04:14	Spyros Psychas picking up waste from the boat
00:04:27	Close up on waste floating, landing net picking up a bottle (2 shots)
00:04:48	Spyros Psychas walking in the water with rubber boots, picking up waste
00:05:11	Close up on bag being picked up
00:05:17	Spyros Psychas picking up waste in the weeds

2. Polish Speed Skating Association, Poland

00:05:24	Title Polskate, the Polish Ice Skating Federation, employs around 60 volunteers during the Short Track World Championship. The volunteers help in different departments of the competition such as information to the public, medical, press, etc. They wear a recognizable orange jacket.
00:05:29	Downtown Warsaw, including the Palace of Culture and Science (2 shots)
00:05:38	Old towncenter of Warsaw (2 shots)
00:05:47	Wide shot from outside Torwar Hall, which hosts the short track speed skating world championship
00:05:51	A volunteer cleaning the ice rink with a special vehicle to prepare the ice (2 shots)
00:06:01	Volunteers cutting food stamps for athletes (3 shots)
00:06:15	Agnieszka Zak (left) and another volunteer looking over the ice rink. Agnieszka is 20 years old. She volunteered for the first time during the Summer Special Olympics for disabled people, in September 2010 in Warsaw. She pledged after reading an advertisement on the internet. She studied translation at the University of Warsaw.
00:06:19	Agnieszka Zak distributes the championship programme for spectators in the stands (2 shots)
00:06:28	Opening ceremony of the championship
00:06:33	Agnieszka Zak and her friend listen to the instructions of their master
00:06:38	Volunteers at the edge of the ice rink
00:06:42	A volunteer is responsible for opening and closing the access door to the ice rink and letting the athletes out (3 shots)
00:06:56	A race on the ice rink
00:07:00	The volunteer responsible for the access door to the ice rink
00:07:03	A race on the ice rink
00:07:07	Volunteers at the edge of the ice rink
00:07:10	A race on the ice rink
00:07:15	Volunteers at the edge of the ice rink
00:07:18	Close up on a volunteer's badge
00:07:23	A young volunteer watching the race (2 shots)
00:07:32	Volunteer opening the access door to the ice rink and letting athletes out (2 shots)
00:07:41	Two volunteers serve as translators to announce the results in Polish
00:07:46	A volunteer receives the results from a judge and brings them to the copy centre
00:07:51	Another volunteer makes photocopies of the results in the copy centre
00:07:55	Agnieszka Zak brings the results to the media centre (3 shots)
00:08:12	Close up on the results of a race
00:08:16	Two volunteers are responsible for displaying the results on an information panel (2 shots)
00:08:26	Tadeusz Guranowski awaiting instructions from anti-doping centre at the edge of the ice rink (2 shots) Tadeusz is 61 and works daily in a rehabilitation centre in Warsaw. He also has volunteered for the first time during the summer Special Olympics for disabled people, in September 2010 in Warsaw. It's his old uncle who inspired him to volunteer. During the Sydney Olympics in 2000, at 70 years of age, his uncle was a driver who volunteered to bring athletes from the Olympic Village to the stadium.

- 00:08:34 Tadeusz Guranowski bringing a Polish athlete to the anti-doping centre (6 shots)
- 00:09:19 Another volunteer in company with a Chinese coach (2 shots)
- 00:09:28 Athletes warming up on the ice rink
- 00:09:37 Volunteers watching the competition
- 00:09:42 Short track race (2 shots)

3. Corporate Volunteering, Ireland

- 00:09:52 Title Dozens of employees from Intel Ireland are involved in volunteering activities. Social or environmental activities are proposed to the employees.
- 00:09:57 The main street of Leixlip (2 shots)
- 00:10:09 The Intel Ireland industrial site and building (2 shots)
- 00:10:19 Close up Intel logo on building
- 00:10:25 Lisa Harlow at her desk, inviting colleagues to join the volunteering activities (2 shots) Lisa is External Relations Manager at Intel Ireland. She has been volunteering for 16 years, on her daughter's school board. She believes corporate volunteering is a way to meet colleagues in a different environment. It's also a way for people from Intel to be part of a community.
- 00:10:51 Sarah Sexton at her desk, finishing work before joining Lisa Harlow in the corridors (2 shots) Sarah is an External Relations Specialist at Intel Ireland. She is 27 years old. She thinks it is nice to be able to help others and give back to community.
- 00:11:08 Paul Phelan receiving a call from Lisa to join the volunteering activity (2 shots) Paul, aged 40, is Corporate Affairs Programme Manager at Intel Ireland. He volunteers because it gives him a great sense of personal satisfaction. And he feels a better person after he volunteers.
- 00:11:28 Paul Phelan leaving for the volunteering activity
- 00:11:36 James Morris shutting down his PC and going to the volunteering activity (3 shots) James, aged 31, is Technical Engineer at Intel Ireland. He volunteers because he is a "natural altruist".
- 00:11:55 James Morris leaving the Intel building and getting on the bus
- 00:12:04 Three employees getting on the bus
- 00:12:12 In the bus, volunteers dressing for the outdoor activity (2 shots)
- 00:12:26 Volunteers getting off the bus
- 00:12:35 Volunteers taking their instruments (2 shots)
- 00:12:48 Group of volunteers going into the woods (2 shots)
- 00:13:00 Volunteers looking at rubbish in the woods
- 00:13:09 James Morris and fellow volunteers cleaning up the woods (2 shots)
- 00:13:23 Close up of waste being picked up
- 00:13:28 James Morris picking up waste (3 shots)
- 00:13:50 Another volunteer picking up waste (2 shots)
- 00:14:02 Lisa Harlow picking up waste (2 shots)
- 00:14:17 Elly Parker picking up waste (2 shots)
- 00:14:30 Sarah Sexton picking up waste
- 00:14:38 Paul Phelan picking up waste
- 00:14:45 Another volunteer picking up waste
- 00:14:51 A volunteer collecting bags of waste
- 00:14:57 Group of volunteers leaving the woods

4. Scouting, Belgium

- 00:15:04 Title "Les 24 heures vélo du Bois de la Cambre" is a bicycle competition for girl and boy scouts from all parts of Belgium. Some 10,000 young people gather for 2 days in Brussels. Staff members of all ages volunteer to make the competition safe and fun. They look after logistics, security, food, etc.

00:15:09	Hundreds of boy and girl scouts gather at the Bois de la Cambre, a park in Brussels (2 shots)
00:15:22	Staff from the organization explain the rules of the competition (2 shots)
00:15:35	A girl scouts troop meets near the tent (2 shots)
00:15:47	A girl scout leader explains how to handle a bike (2 shots)
00:16:00	Daniel Willocx and other staff members watching the troop meeting. Daniel, aged 50, is a dermatologist. He is enthusiastic about youth movements. He volunteers "by conviction" and because he wants to give time to the young generation.
00:16:06	A girl scout leader and Daniel Willocx repairing a tire (2 shots)
00:16:18	Red Cross volunteers going to the camp site
00:16:27	4 adult volunteers bring food to the tent
00:16:33	Bicycle race starts (2 shots)
00:16:49	Bruno de Clippele watching the race. Bruno, 52 years old, is a lawyer in Brussels. He volunteers because he appreciates the philosophy behind the youth movement. He would like to help the younger generation enjoy the same pleasure he had when he was a boy-scout himself.
00:16:56	Donatienne Willocx talking to young girl-scouts, preparing paperwork (4 shots) Donatienne, 48 years old, is secretary of the Group Staff. She volunteers because she wants to support the young scout leaders that give so much of their time for the kids.
00:17:21	Girl scouts putting on colorful make-up
00:17:26	Girl scout leader helps a girl putting on her safety helmet
00:17:32	Bicycle race: relay between 2 girl scouts
00:17:44	Security volunteer looking after youngsters
00:17:51	Bicycle race: relay between 2 girl scouts and staff member helping
00:18:09	Françoise Herbiet laughing. Françoise, in the forties, is a Human Resources Manager. Giving some free time to the girls scouts is a way to thank the movement for taking care of her own children.
00:18:17	Girl scout takes off safety helmet; staff lady supervising
00:18:23	Volunteer staff member cooks spaghettis (2 shots)
00:18:37	Security volunteers watching the race (5 shots)
00:19:07	Young boy scout taking off helmet, encouraged by leader
00:19:15	Boy scout leader helping a youngster putting on helmet
00:19:23	Boy scout leaders from another group (2 shots)
00:19:37	Boy scout leaders singing and dancing (2 shots)
00:19:47	British boy scout leaders watching the race (2 shots)
00:19:57	Boy scout leader selling T-shirts for the 2012 Jamboree
00:20:03	Bicycle race
00:20:11	Copyright
00:20:23	END

CONDITIONS OF USE

This material is offered free of charge for EU-related information and education purposes.
For any other use, prior clearance must be obtained from the Central Audiovisual Library of the European Commission.
In no case may this material be sold or rented.
NB: Pictures containing buildings and artworks may only be used to meet the needs of current news coverage.

Credit : © European Union, 2012