Brief description of the project and what you did: Kulturfabrikken is a culture house, where you can attend creative workshops and events, chill in the café, go to concerts, skate and climb. I had caféshifts, filled with serving clients, baking and making coffee, and I helped during the workshops with planning, setting up, helping participants and making reels and posts for PR on social media. Furthermore I helped at the concerts with setting up, standing behind the bar, taking pictures and cleaning everything up again. Besides that I participated in team meetings, did some practical tasks (e.g. laundry) and helped with PR in general.

Your favourite moment: Helping during the concerts and big events, because then everybody works together and the atmosphere is really nice and energetic :) Also just having a good time with all the sweet colleagues!

Impact in the community: It was wonderful to see the positive impact Kulturfabrikken had on the community! People sometimes came to us during workshops or events and said how great the things were we organized and it was so nice to see that kids and youngsters were really thankful for the different opportunities they got in the house. That people enjoyed coming there and something we offered was their highlight of the day just made me so happy :) I also had the chance to organize an event myself, it was an open mic evening, where people could sing, perform something or do karaoke, get inspired by others and have a fun night. It was really nice seeing youngsters being involved and enjoying music together.

Impact on yourself: During this year I learned so much, so many new skills, things about other people and also about myself. I became more independent and confident and learned to adapt in so many different situations at work, but also just adjusting to a new environment and a new country. It was a really cool experience to be fully immersed in a new culture and to constantly stay open for new experiences. I really feel like I've grown and I'm gonna miss all the wonderful people I've met there very much.
